A Trip to Mughal Garden

“Every flower is a soul blossoming in nature.” – The true meaning of this was understood by the students of our school after an enriching experience of an edutainment trip to the Mughal Gardens, which was organized for classes IV to VIII on 17 February, 2018.

The refreshing spring morning stung new energy and the children were impatient to set out. They had been told about the venue of the Gardens and the multitude colours of spring that they were about to see.

We ascended into our buses and soon the children spotted India gate and the Houses of Parliament on the way. We arrived in the stipulated location and walked slowly past the security. The children were not to be intimidated, infact they felt it important!

We first visited the Medicinal Garden where we learnt about the different herbs grown there and their medicinal values. Next, we went to the Bonzai Park where we saw a variety of hybrid trees. Then we were led into the main Mughal Garden where we row upon chains of densely- packed Dahilas, Pansies, Tulips which astounded us. Multiple musical fountains played as the plants sucked in the graceful sunlight. The Rose and the Circular Garden were similar wealth of fragrance and aroma.

Finally, we proceeded to see a row of medicinal oils, herbs, hybrid varieties of fruits and vegetables grown on the premises. It proved to be excellent edutainment for both the teachers and the children.
